GROUP GOVERNMENT NOT WANTED

The Farty system of government has been the subject of considerable criticism of late, and it may be admitted that it is not a perfect system. But the odd thing is that its critics are chiefly those who are trying to set up new political parties.

We have the C.C.F., the New Democracy and the Communist parties, each of which claims to have the only solutions for our social and economic problems. In order to put their colutions into effect, one of these parties would have to secure a large majority over the others-including the Liberals and Progressive Conservatives. That is extreme ly unlikely.

The two-party system is the only form of government that can maintain orderly and progressive democracy. A multiplicity of parties leads inevitably to political chaos, and the only way out of political chaos is dictatorship. That is what happened after the French Revolution when Napoleon seized the reins of power and established a military regime.

It presented Hitler with his opportunity, and we know what happened in Germany and what is happening today throughout the world. The present war is the direct result of a one-party system in Germany.

The Soviet Government in Russia was tending in the same direction under Trotsky, with his attempt to undermine the governments of other countries by a campaign of infiltration. We still have some of the remnants of that campaign in Canada, and we can get along very well without them.

We may learn something from political experiments in other countries, but we do not have to smash up our system in order to improve it. In a democracy, with its freedom of thought and speech, there will always be groups of people with extreme views on matters of government, but when such groups form political parties and get into parliament the party system becomes a farce. France, before the war, was a pathetic example of that kind of political confusion.

There is ample room in our two chief political parties for mez of diverse views who can work out practical measures of social and economic reform in a democratic man-

THE OLD GRAY BONNEY

Lesser things have started a revolutions. Yet today British women hardly look up from their work. Only one new hat every three years, under the new quota! Undoubtedly the Government held its breath. But nothing happened. The earth continued to turn upon its axis. The stars held firmly to the skies. The sun ran its accustomed course.

It is, indeed, a new world. One in which men and women have become more adaptable, an re resourceful, more versatile. Only one hat in three years! Instead of shrieking in protest, the average woman today accepts the ineviable with fortitude and procands to trim it over so cleverly that no one would ever know it was the same "inevitable" toat the wore but year.

In fact, it is doubtful if such an edict would cause very much more of a furor in Canada, what with bandanas, snoods, and fascinators to save the day. The chapeal, you may have noticed, is not the formal croscion that it once was. Indeed, a mere chater of artificial flowers, affixed to the pompadour frequently becomes a hat to all intents and purposes. Of it may be a perky velvet bow or piece of fur.

So if "coupon 55" suddenly becomes good for one hat for the duration, Canadian women will probably take the news with the same calmness expressed by their British sisters. The old gray bonnet will undergo an overhauling, and come out looking like a new model. Men will still pretend to be amazed at the result.

MAIL IS A MUNITION

In the armed forces, men put the mail call ahead of the mess call. In North Africa a postal service official saw a company of soldiers standing for mess when the mail call was sounded. Nearly every man left the line and rushed to see if there was a letter.

An infantry commander was about to lead his unit into action when the mail arrived. He learned that mail delivery just before an offensive, makes for a vastly improved morale. Government authorities say that mail from home is more than a fighting man's privilege. It is a military necessity.

While there are casualties in the mail. some remarkable salvage exploits are recounted. For example, divers recovered forty sacks of mail from a plane which crashed in the sea off Newfoundland in forty feet of water. At the New York City Army Post Office, the envelopes were spread on the floor for drying and within a month's time, all but 20 pounds of the 1,000 pounds of salvage mail had been re-addressed, re-enveloped when necessary, and again sent on its way.

A submarine commander in the Pacific located three mail bags floating after a torpedoing. All the enclosed letters were delivered and the envelopes are now valuable colletors' items.

Airgraph are also widely used. Each letter is photographed on micro-film, and on arrival a photographic enlargement of the letter is made and ferwarded to the addressee.

A Navy postal officer says, "The mail is a valuable munition of war and we treat it as such."

Whether if's a letter, an Airgraph, a parcel or a greeting card suitable for the occasion, it's up to the folks at home to:

Keep 'em Happy-With Mail.

SCOTLAND STARTED IT

Scotland and its people are given credit for a few things and bitterly blamed for a good many more.

So we are not greatly surprised to learn that Scotland is responsible for the first highway tax, which was in effect some four centuries ahead of our modern gasoline tax.

In the early sixteenth century, the Canongate was one of the first paved streets in Edinburgh. It was also the main street of the bedieval Scotland capital. Soon after the paving of the Canongate was finished, James V. of Scotland in 1535 issued a proclamation governing all traffic on the newly paved street, and the law applied equally to private and government owned vehicles.

Empty carts and wagons using the Canongate were compelled to pay a tax of one-half penny every time they travelled along the street. Loaded carts and other vehicles paid a tax of one penny to "repair and maintain the causeway."

History does not record whether the ancient tax was actually used to repair the roads, or whether, like the modern gasoline tax, it was just an excuse to provide an ample supply of spending money, but either way, it was the Scotch that originated the scheme. And the Stuart King who started it was a Tory too.

Speaking of newspapers, brings to mirel the fact that Reg. Lawson has become a "Printer's Devil." What a lot of difference in the spen of Vears since

I was first a "Devil". (I guess I am yet for that matter). Reg. starts in on a bed of roses compared to what I did. A printer of this age can work all day in a white shirt and never get it spotted. Improved methods and machinery have eliminated 90 per cent of the old time grime and hard labor in connection with a "back shop."

Reg. no doubt will get his hands dirty weahing rollers, but he won't have much "dising" to do, or in other words much type to distribute back into the cases. In fact there were a lot of thing that he will not have to do, because Dybe Lawson and the typesetting machine can take care of all that.

Changes have also taked place in the husiness and editorial and of the newspaper profession. To-"day it is all a hard cash proposition between the editor and the customer. In my days as a "Devil" it was to a great extent a matter of barter. I have corn a pile of corderood containing at least 40 cords piled up in the backyard behind the old office and home (Dr. Bincinir's residence) at one time, all taleon from the farmers in payment for subscriptions. in the late fall, the winter and early spring the House of Livingston never purchased any beef, pork, poultry or other meals; potatoes or vegetables; but-ter or eggs, all being supplied by the farmers on their subscription or small job work account. That meant a lot of provender in these days because "James A." was running the livery and bus lines and there were always from eight to twelve drivers and hostiers gutting a big percentage of their meals in the family kitchen.

In the olden days an editor of a weekly page was everything from Town Crier to filling in !" LOVELY LITTLE LADY WILL CELEBRATE 93rd BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Henry Heise, Born at Prestoe, Ontario, March 27, 1850-Married at 19 - Has Unbroken Family Circle of Ten Children, 13 Grandchildren And Three Great-Grandchildren - Resides With Her Daughter, Mrs. Mary Kanmacher, Kidd Avenue.

Many things a woman may forget in the passing of the years but never will she forget the gown she wore at her wedding. Mrs. Henry Heise, who will celebrate her 93rd birthday on March 27th at the home of her daughter, Mrs. 1 Kammacher, Kidd avenue, remem bers the details of her wedding array as if she had donned it be yesterday.

Married at 19, Mrs. Heine -- or Dorothea Stuempfie, as she was then - recalls her wedding gown, made by a dressmaker (a noteworthy fact 74 years ago!), of grey French merino with hooped skirt, the rows of grey silk fringe with which it was strimmed beaded with little roses. A grey, flower-trimned bonnet was worn with it and the finishing touch was added by grey Paisley shawl with coloured border and fringe. The presiding minister was Rev. Emanuel Wurof St. Peter's Lutheran Church, and as the custom was in those days, the marriage took place at the home of the bride's parents.

I seked Capt, Harry "Pud" Reid just what there was that made the team go pieces like they did and his only shower was the front Campbell line. That was natural from him. He was the team captain and a con-Marshall tru los man. He told me "once I leave that coutre jou line, I am absolutely confident that I can shut my eyes and pass that pack right or left and know that Artie Clarke or Short Home will be there to nick McVicar always claimed that the Kings went through because Metcalfo every man on the team had confidence in the other fellow. As he ca- Frazier plained it "my front line is up there doing their darminet. They ride Cloughley in and they wry in. They will backcheck every inch of the way. If they lose the play, they know that Jerry and I are behind them. If we lose the play then we know that Buddy Pisher is there be' ind us. He has watched the play the full length of the ice. He is set for it. Also 17:30 he knows that we are coming back to protect him and so is the front

You have been here 20 years, Pop. You came of your own choos- DeMille The man with a sweet, trusting lag. As a battling bookey player gou conducted yourself like a gentle-Norton.-You have raised two beautiful daughters. You are a tax pay- Scott er and a good citizen. The best move you over made in your life was 20 years ago. Congratulations.

One of the many Canadian RedCross functions is to make sure that no Canadlan erviceman in overment hospitals suffers from loocliness. Names of all Canadians admitted to multary hapitals anywhere in Britain are turned over the Ed Cross and they in turn communicate with the Veltors' Committee in that particular area. Pictus shows Sgt. H. J. Comentine of Penticion, B.C. reciving gifts of eighteties and enndles from a Red Cros visitor in an R.A.F. isospital "somewhere in England. Over 7 000,000 articles of supplies and exusforts have been given to patents in military hospitale and the armed forces by the Canadian Red Cross.

COUNTY COUNCIL

lighing the basis of the 1943 county levy. Council discussed the possibility of drawing up three different equalized assessments upon which to raise their funds for general, patriotic and school purposes. Some assessments from county musicipalities take into consideration fixed assessments within their own municipalities. The county feels that for some purposes, total assessments, rather than fixed asseements, should be charged with the county rates. On the committee will be Warden C. W. Durham, chairman of assessment, Leslie Lymburner, W. E. Heaslip and County Clerk W. H. Millward.

Council received a preliminary repor from a committee which has been as up to study wartime housing prolems as they affect the county. Wartime houses are situated in county municipalities, but they do not entribute to the up- such employment started, the resokeep of county institutions. from the County of Intario, asking that milking machines be manufactured in larger quantities, and that Hydro power be made avaiable to farms which have not become consumers. They felt that this would help alleviate the farm labor shortage.

Another resolution, from the County of Elgin, was endorsed. It asked that municipalities be given a chance to consider mothers' allowances before they were discontinued, and asked that dependants of enlisted men be considered realdents, for purposes of hospitalization, of the place where the enlistment took place. In the case of civilians working at sirfields army camps, they should be considered residents of the municipality municipalities, Therefore, in which they were living when

He is more like a father to us younger fellows, and is always about the camp talking to all of us every day. I have done very much travelling here in England, Scotland and also in northern Wales, have seen Ireland three times and was once in Iceland for 215 days which in my estimation is quite some travelling in just three years time.

The weather here is very rainy and damp at the present time, and myself I would welcome a little snow instead.

No doubt we shall have another green Christmas, the snow never comes until late in January and never stays very long at any one time.

Only the fact that all doors and windows were closed. Chief LePage said, prevented this blaze gaining headway. The house was completely furnished but only damage was from water and smoke. So fer as could be learned from neighbours. there was no live stock in the barn Mr. Lambert, who recently took over the property from Clyde Alway, formerly operated a transport business at Hamilton.

New Postage Rate On All Letters

Out Or Town Epostles Four Cents After April First -Local Delivery Three Cents.

The new postage rates announced in the budget brought down in the House of Commons will go into effect on April 1st, and it may need something of an April Fool headsone. The new order increases out-of-town letters rates to four cents, and local drop letters to three cents. The present rate is three and two cents.

Though some sort of educational campaign this much to educate the public in the new sates is said to be contemplated by Ottawa, the public is known to learn stryly at times and insufficient postage will provide more work and worry for postmasters who have to collect decide from you for the xtra cent pustage serve one forms to pur on

He does not anticipate extensive forgetfulness in this regard and hopes the interval between now and April I will enable the public to become fairly well acquisinted with the need for extra postage after that date. New rates are expected to make a best-seller of the little used grey four-cent stamp issued last July 4. Postsi officials say additional supplies will be shipped to stamp depots across Canada in ample time. However, two two-cent stamps or aree and one combination will till be good.

Many Deputations Appeal For Help

County Council Will Purchase New Snow Plow For Road System — Highways Bylaw to be Consolidated.

A new snow plow for the Lincoln County roads system will be purchased to bring this department up to strength. The county council authorized purchase of the new equipment, which will take the place of one of the plows which is past usefulness through bending and rugged wear. Road Superintendent F. E. Weir stated that the county will now have four plow outfits, and eight dump trucks, completing its fleet. A new truck was delivered to the county a few weeks ago.

Council heard four deputations, each asking for grants, and all requests were referred to the finance committee. Dr. H. G. Fox, R.C., was spokesman for a deputation representing the Board of Governors of the St. Catharines General Hospital, and consisting of Col. E. F. McCordick, C. Bruce Hill, E. E. III. Wright and F. H. Holmen: Mayor Charles Daley also accompanied the deputation. Dr. Fox asked council for a grant of $25,-000 to assist the hospital board in its program of expansion which is costing about $250,000. The building is being enlarged to provide more space for beds, for operating room, and for other services, and a number of pieces of the latest equipment are being purchased to bring the St. Catharines hospital in tine with some of the best in the country. Dr. Fox reported that this is the first program of expansion that the hospital has undergone since 1926, and that in that interval, the number of patients, and of patient days has doubled.

Prynce Nesbitt, President of the Lincoln County Music Pestival Association, asked for a grant of $100. He stated that this is the only organization which tries to The Campaign Committee takes promote musical adjudicators who recognized in Ontario.

Mrs. Edwin Secord, Grantham, Mrs. C. H. Fisher, Queenston, and Mrs. T. Condy, Merritton, spoke on behalf of their Red Cross Socie'es. and maked for grants during the present financial drive. Their re-Used clothing is under the price quest, and that from the Grimsby
